LOCALES.
—Hon. S. S. Marshall will speak at the Athenaeum to-night.

—John A. Logan will not speak in Cairo before the election.

—Attend the democratic rally at the Athenaeum to-night.

—Hon. D. T. Linegar will speak at the Athenaeum this evening.

—Attend the democratic meeting to-night and "don't you forget it."

—Carbolic acid as a disinfecting agent is, in the language of the boys, "played."

—T. W. Halliday will address the meeting at the Athenaeum this evening.

—Hon. S. S. Marshall, D. T. Linegar and T. W. Halliday will address the people of Cairo at the Athenaeum this evening.

—Frank Hooley is again in the city, and will render his drug store this morning.

—Mr. Jacob Martin's new residence, now approaching completion, will be one of the most attractive homes in the city.

—Owing to the absence of the chairman of the executive committee and other causes, the regular monthly meeting of the taxpayers' association was not held last night.

—The hauling in and sending out of stoves form a business with our tinner just now, of no inconsiderable magnitude. The swearing in the homes where these stoves are put in place is simply frightful.

—The report current yesterday and the day before that a genuine case of "pernicious fever" had developed itself in the vicinity of the New York store, proved to be unfounded. There is no fever in that neighborhood.

—Capt. Alex. Halliday, a cousin of the Messrs. Halliday of this city, is in town visiting among his kinsfolks.

—Judge C. H. Layman, of Murphysboro, Radical candidate in this district for the legislature, was in the city yesterday.

—A Christian association has been organized among the young men of Paducah. No derisive guffaws are not unnecessary.

—Let it be remembered that Judge Allen and Hon. Wm. Hartzell will address the people of Cairo at the Athenaeum Monday evening.

—Miss Lizzie McKee has been installed in the postoffice as delivery clerk—a position that she will fill most gracefully and efficiently.

—Be on hand at the Court House to-night. That invincible, uncompromising old democrat, and distinguished orator, Sam. Marshall, will do the principal talking.

—Amusement goers will be glad to learn that Cairo is soon to be visited by Rice's Evangelical combination. This troupe has been playing for the last three weeks at De Bars opera house, St. Louis.

—The blowing of horns and rasping of cat-gut on our streets yesterday, was to notify the public that a reception and skating entertainment had been provided for the evening in the St. Charles hotel.

—Hon. D. L. Phillips, of Springfield, and a shining light in the Radical camp in this state, was in the city yesterday on his way home. Phillips has been making speeches in the district for Thomas.

—The Republicans of this city will hold a meeting at the court house this evening at which Capt. John R. Thomas, Radical candidate in this district, will be the attraction. He will edify his hearers with one of his characteristic harangues.

—The price of Irish potatoes is verging that of the luxuries that are commonly tabooed in families of straightened circumstances. Twenty cents a peck is the ruling price among grocers. Sweet potatoes are sluggish at forty cents a bushel.

—Among other complaints to which our returned refugees are giving expression, is one to the effect that they have no further use for hen roosts. It must be a very obtuse individual who can't conceive that his chickens were carried off by the fever.

—Miss Ida Harrell has returned to the city, and will on Monday next, be in readiness to give lessons upon the piano, as formerly. Persons wishing to secure her services can apply personally at 802 Washington Ave., or address her through P. O. box 533.

—The Sun speaks of the arrival of J. C. Carson and wife. We have received no cards, no cake, no wine, no intimation of a purpose on Carson's part "for to go and for to do it," and are puzzled sorely. But hasn't the Sun been deceived by appearances?

—Major Caffrey, well known to citizens of Cairo whose residence in Cairo dates back to 1866, is now in Kansas City, Kansas, publishing, under the name of "Pilot," a rampant, vicious, and per consequent an unreasonable and irrational republican newspaper.

—Joe C. Robinson and two brothers named Rains, claiming to be residents of Pope county, were arrested, at Caledonia a few days ago, on suspicion of having robbed a store at Wingo station, Ky. Tom Worthington, of the Pike, and Judge Smith, of Caledonia, armed with shot-guns, effected the arrest.

—We heartily sympathize with Judge Baker and family in the loss of their bright and interesting little daughter, Gertrude. Few parents cherish for their children such tender affection as the Judge and his lady, and few have been called upon to mourn the loss of such a treasure.

—Nothing whatever occurred in police circles yesterday. The office of Judge Bird remained closed for want of customers, while Judge Cundings sat behind his desk, abstracting chattel mortgages. Hence the "police items" for which some of our readers have a special relish are not ext.

—It is estimated that the recent exodus cost our people, in actual cash, not less than $200,000. When we remember that the larger portion of this amount was drawn from our savings banks within a period of a few days, there should be little occasion to distrust the entire soundness of those institutions. It is a "big card" for them.

—Prof. Alvord, with his corps of assistants, is in the city, and will re-open the Cairo public schools on Monday morning. As no possible danger can now be apprehended by bringing the children together, it is highly desirable that all who propose to attend during the winter, be in their seats on Monday morning.

—Panic makers and alarmists have striven industriously to create the impression that there are several cases of fever in the city that were developed during the past day or two. The recent sickness of Mr. Ambrose Pratt is referred to as one of them. Mr. P. is at work in the BULLERY's bandery, and, if at any time, he was a victim of the pestilence, he is happily unconscious of it.

—It is estimated that 3,000 citizens were, about the 20th ultimo, absent from the city. Many lives were saved, by the exodus, as well among those who participated in it, as those who remained. We are not of the "heroes," and never expect to be, who voluntarily invite a conflict with such an insidious and lethal enemy as is the Yellow Jack. There is, in such a conflict, but little chance for either glory or victory.

—One of the "God's blessings" that attend the poor of this city, is the cheapness of coal: The Cairo City Coal Company will deliver even a single ton in any part of the city, for two dollars and twenty-five cents. With a winter ahead of us that threatens to be a hard one—in a financial sense—we have assurance that even the poorest need not freeze.

—Such of our citizens as formed camps on Cache river, during the season of panic, maintained such robust health and found such varied means of amusement and pastime, that they express a purpose to pass a few weeks of every summer in a like manner. With fishing, hunting, nutting and cribbage-playing, their time passed as pleasantly as if they were in the enjoyment of the most welcome dreams.

—Mayor Winter has no love for THE BULLETIN, but that does not blind us to the fact that he acted the part of a humane and fearless officer, from the commencement of our affliction to its close. Not having his own re-election in view (being informed that he will not be a candidate for re-election), his conduct is stripped of all seeming of selfishness, and rendered such as even his enemies (of which we beg to assure him we not one) will applaud.

—We regret to be informed, as we were last evening, that Squire Shannessy is so very ill that nearly all hope of his recovery has been abandoned. His health has been bad for several years; so much shattered, indeed, that he has been unable to give any attention to business to which he had been accustomed. He is the oldest citizen of Cairo living to-day, and widely known as he is, his friends everywhere will learn of his condition with feelings of unfeigned sorrow.

—Governor Hendricks, of Indiana, will address the Democracy of Southern Illinois, at Carbondale, at 9 o'clock this afternoon. A special train for that point left Cairo at 4 o'clock this morning, and will return at 5 o'clock this evening. The 5,000 Democrats that congregate in Carbondale to-day will have the pleasure of listening to the eminent statesman who was seven-by-eight out of the vice-presidency of the United States—to which position he was elected by a popular majority of a quarter of a million votes.

—Mr. Hooper, vice president of the cooper's union, of this city, died in the neighboring town of Anna, on the 29th ult. Remaining at home until the germs of the disease had planted themselves in his system, he sought refuge from danger among the good-hearted people of Anna; but too late. The disease developed, and all the kind attentions he received, could not rescue him from its deadly toils. His brother cooper adopted resolutions of respect which we will publish when furnished with a copy of them.

—As no man is responsible for the natural color of his skin, the pelting and clodding of a negro for no other reason than that his skin is black, savors too strongly of brutality to be denominated by any other name. Old Dr. Thornton Dillon is a harmless old blatherskite, fully three-quarters of a century old, but these considerations do not protect him from clods and heavier missiles thrown from the hands of thoughtless boys and ruffianly young men. He has knots and holes in his scalp which he owes to the pranks of sportive youths; and has, as he should have done, sought the protection of the law. Let the harmless old creature be.

—We have, in the presence of a horde of tramps, very satisfactory evidence that there is no longer any danger here, of either pestilence or famine. Many of them are wending their way south, where there will be less call for heavy clothing. And right here we will take occasion to make public a suggestion made to us, to which we attach some weight. The tramps that reach the city should not be furnished free ferrage across the rivers. Trampism has been so systematized that it is no doubt already widely known among the thousands of that class bending their steps southward, that Cairo furnishes them free ferrage. The consequence is and will continue to be, that Cairo is made an interpot on their line of travel. Drive every mother's son of them, who refuses to work, out of the city, or make him pay the penalty of his vagabondage. They find means to congregate here; let them find means to get away.

—Mrs. Chas. Thrupp met with a painful, and probably fatal accident, yesterday forenoon, while on the way to the station at Beech Ridge to take the cars for home. She was riding in a wagon and came to a place a tree had fallen across the road. Mrs. Thrupp was sitting on a seat, while in front of her was a box. In attempting to climb under the branches of the tree, she leaned forward as far as the box would allow her, her breast touching the top of the box. In this position she was caught between the box and a hanging branch of the fallen tree, and before the horses could be stopped she was fruitfully crushed, receiving very painful internal injuries. She was conveyed to the station, and at once removed to her home on Washington Avenue. Dr. W. R. Smith was called to see her and gave her such treatment as his cure deserved. She was resting more comfortable last evening, though it is yet impossible to state the exact state of her injuries. Mrs. Thrupp with her husband and family left the city during the yellow fever excitement and had taken up their quarters in the country; and were returning to the city when the accident occurred. She has the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

—Messrs. Koehler Bros., butchers, have just opened a new meat market in the basement of the Cuhl building, No. 80 Ohio Levee—sign of the big buffalo head—for the accommodation of steamboats. Messrs. Koehler Bros. are well-known and popular with river men generally, having been long in the meat business here. They have the reputation among steamboatmen for furnishing the best and choicest meat to be obtained on the river between St. Louis and New Orleans, a fact which in itself is sufficient to guarantee them a liberal patronage. The members of the firm are clever gentlemen, and in their transactions with their patrons are always fair and honorable.

Mr. Joe Abell, an old time river man, who is well and favorably known to almost the whole river fraternity, has been engaged by the Messrs. Koehler Bros. to act as agent for them in their new enterprise, and all orders taken by Mr. Abell will receive prompt attention.

RESUMED.
The BULLETIN, after a suspension of seven weeks, is out again this morning looking bright and new, considering the difficulties attending getting the machinery in good order. We extend to it a hearty welcome, and sincerely sympathize with Mr. Oberly in the losses he has incurred by its suspension, and feel that that four at least of the former force, who were our acquaintances and personal friends, have laid down the "stick" and pen forever. Peace to their sleeping dust.

To Mr. M. B. Harrell, who we learn assumes the editorial management, we extend the hand of welcome. We are sure that with his experience he will be able to make the BULLETIN as good as ever—Cairo Evening Sun.

Kindly said, friend Davis—and appreciated.
